Metals in Medicine

Assignment 5

Due: May 1, 2018

You are assigned to read the following articles on metals and the immune system (see attached). Please write a one to two page synopsis for each article in which you address the following points:

- What is the objective of the article?
- What is the methodology that was applied?
- What are the key findings of the article and do you believe that sufficient evidence was provided to support the claims? Explain.
- What are your doubts that should be further explored?

Follow the guidelines of the document “How to reference and format” provided on the website to properly format your writing and references.
